Southern Melody Makers at St. James Church, 1805 Woodland avenue, Monday night, March 24th.

The Southern Melody Makers will be heard in a concert at St. James Church, 1805 Woodland avenue, Monday evening, March 24.

When America was just entering the war it was hopefully urged that the Negro would emerge from the service with all the obnoxious color barriers broken down. Present indications are, however, that the barriers have simply been strengthened and only the black soldier's health has been broken down.

Sending the psychological moment Prof. J. R. E. Lee is said to have made a most successful appeal for race fairness in school room studies at a meeting of the high school section of the city teachers institute last Saturday. The vigorous and prolonged applause which followed his remarks indicated the effect produced by his arguments.

The League of Nations is hardly a subject which need produce any disturbing reactions in our study of political or social conditions. What should interest us most is some sort of actual working out of that World Democracy for which we went in to fight. We should like to see it in this part of the world, too, if you please.

In a university extension study class made up of about thirty Kansas City school principals who are making some scientific investigations along the line of sub-normalities in children and intelligence measurements several Negro school heads are enrolled. Dr. R. A. Schwieger of Kansas University is directing the work. In a judgment reasoning test which he gave to the principals recently Prin. Joe E. Herfford, of the Yates School, won the second highest number of points and was one of the four being ranked in Class A. Other Negro principals made good showings and none of them received the lowest marks.

The Sun was extremely gratified to receive the following letter from one of the foremost business establishments in Kansas City.

Mr. Nelson Crews,
 Editor The Kansas City Sun.

Dear Sir:
 Your solicitor has today called upon me for an ad. I have been wondering why he has not called upon me before and had intended to call up and have you send someone to me. The Baltimore Shirt Co. gets thousands of dollars every year out of the colored people of Kansas City and we feel that we should help to support a paper of your kind.

I have today given your solicitor a contract for an ad to run for one year. If more of the big stores in Kansas City who take the colored man's money and sell him merchandise would do likewise, a short time you could make this a daily paper instead of a weekly, which a town of this size should support.

Yours very truly,
 Baltimore Shirt Co.
 W. E. Davis, Mgr.

Madeline Council, No. 21, of the Ancient Sons and Daughters of Jerusalem, gave a banquet Monday night at headquarters, 1150 Independence avenue. Plates were laid for 154. Miss Cosetta Jiles, toastmistress, won the applause of the guests by her extraordinary way of introducing the speakers, who were Prof. Harry R. Graham, S. G. K., T. Benton J. Robinson, S. G. S., F. A. Turner, S. G. O., and Rev. McManamy, who spoke along the lines of the order. Preceding the banquet a short program was rendered by the Chatham sisters. Solo by Mrs. Martha Wright. The Martin sisters, Mrs. Denby and the Lynch sisters also appeared on the program.

DUBOIS DRAMATIC CLUB.

The young people of this club, under the leadership of Mrs. Clara Adams, deserves the highest commendation and the continued substantial support of Kansas City. A crowded house enjoyed their presentation of "The Trail" Friday evening, February 14, 1919. The company has been requested to appear once a month. The neighboring towns should be afforded the opportunity of hearing them.

Note—A conspicuous reserved seat does not entitle the holder, by arriving late, to disturb his neighbors simply because he is colored.

Home East 5172. Bell East 3894J

Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 17, 1919.

We do not always give the exact number of the houses listed with us for sale, so many of our people innocently and out of curiosity annoy the tenant that it results to our detriment. We, therefore, kindly ask those who are interested in buying property, to desist in questioning tenants as to ownership, price, etc., as we make it a rule never to add one cent to prices quoted us by owners. A great deal of the property listed with us is from unaccustomed owners. That is why we are able to offer such bargains as appear in our advertising from week to week. Note the following:
